Uberhood Gameplay!

Alright, so I have been wanting to have a little uberhood gameplay for sims 2 for a while now and I finally set it up to play. It is half an uberhood though. I've only attached the 3 base game hoods+downtown+bluewater village and all university+vacation destinations.

These updates will be longer than my sims 3 ones and therefore I will send them out maybe once a week or once every two weeks. I'm planning on just releasing one season in one household with each update.

1 - Broke Family – Round 1

Uberhood
Broke
55 Woodland Drive
$25,031
Brandi was left to raise two boys alone following her husband's suspicious pool ladder accident. With Dustin acting out, can Brandi teach young Beau to make the right choices in life?

This was always my favourite household to play as a kid and kind of want to capture that nostalgia with this gameplay.

Beau Broke is growing fast, and Brandi wants to teach him all the skills he needs to stay out of trouble. Click on Beau to teach him to Walk, and fulfill wants for both Sims.
96

Classic prompts, it is also nice to see Brandi and Dustin interacting positively on their own.

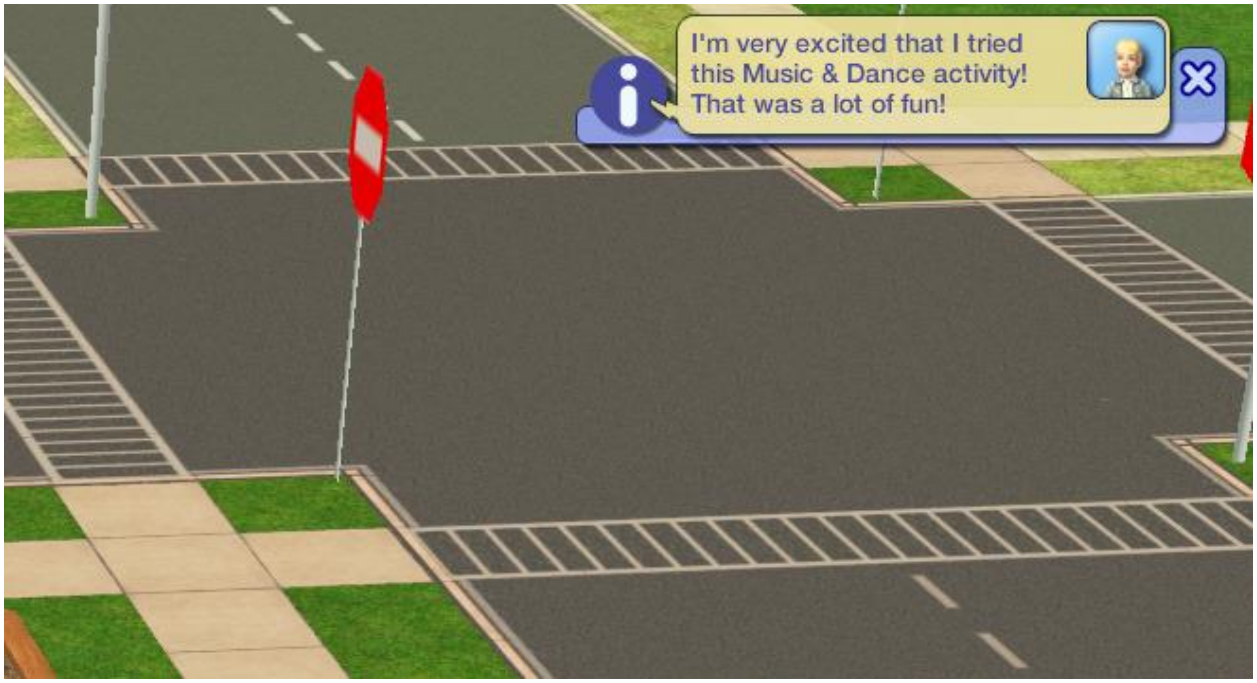
There you go! Now Beau knows how to walk!

Brandi's starting wishes are flirt with someone and meet someone new. Which means I'll be on the look out for passerby's.

uh-oh

I went ahead and added the rest of the Langerak clan (Dustin, Iliana, Parker and Zelda) into the hood and set them as family with Kaylynn. Now that I think about it I hope what I did didn't break Pleasant house's pre set event xD

This is Parker Brandi is greeting, Kaylynn's older brother. She has no chemistry with him so we'll be looking elsewhere for that flirt.



Yes, yes. Beau is a musical boi!

First baby bump!

Dustin getting scolded in front of Angela xD happens everytime in the first day of these guys.

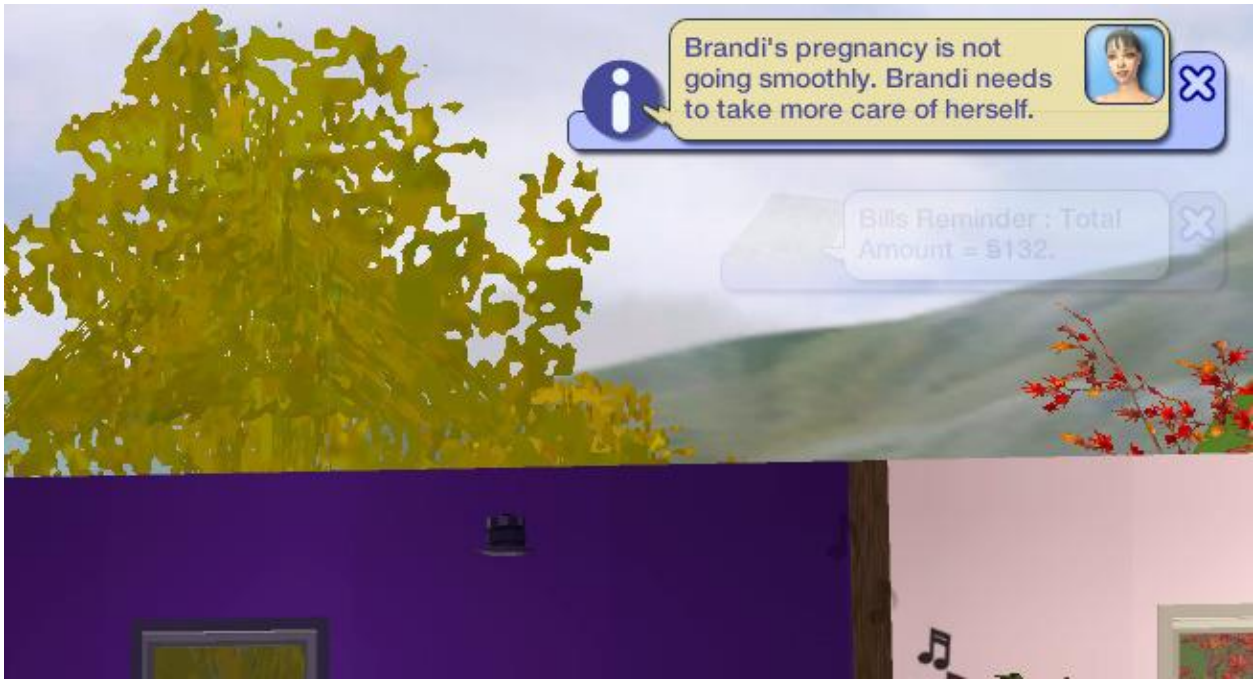
Dustin had a wish to have first kiss with Angela and there they go!

Boy did they move fast xD Thanks acr

As scripted Angela came for a sneak out that night but Dustin was exhausted. Between pregnant Brandi and taking care of Beau, he had a lot of responsibilities at home.

Brandi wanted to talk with Dustin and here they are.

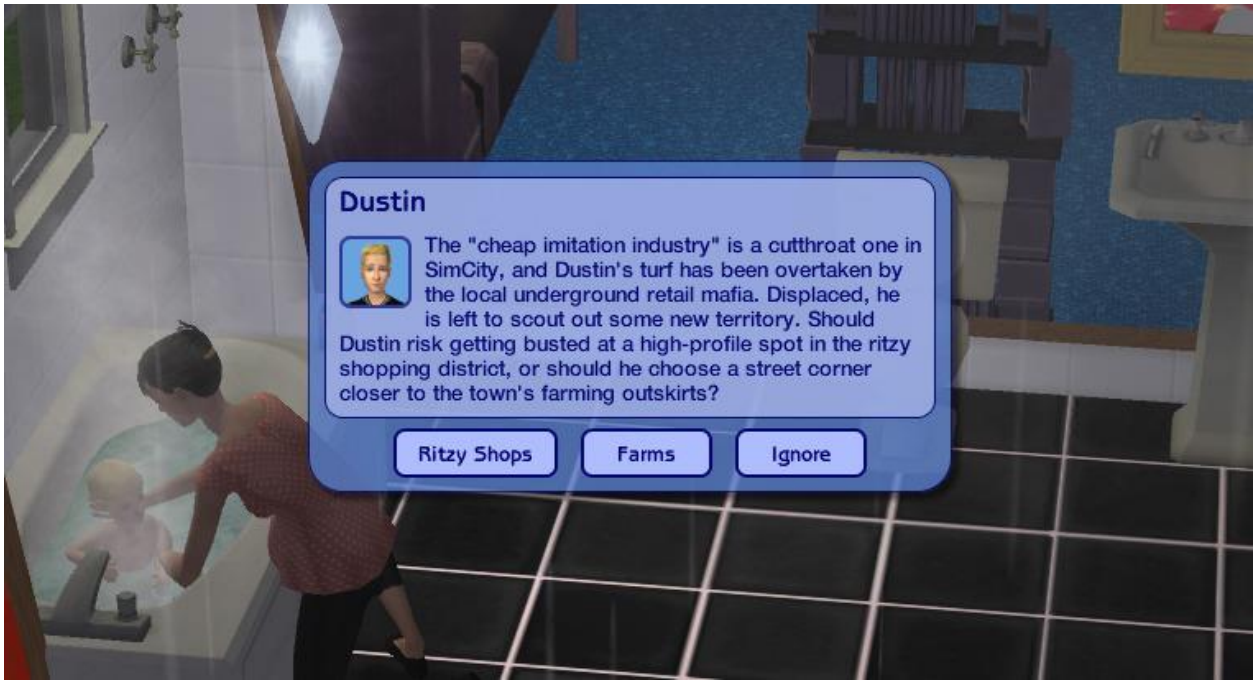
2nd baby bump!



oh, man I forgot I had that miscarriage thing. She's sleeping now though we're good.

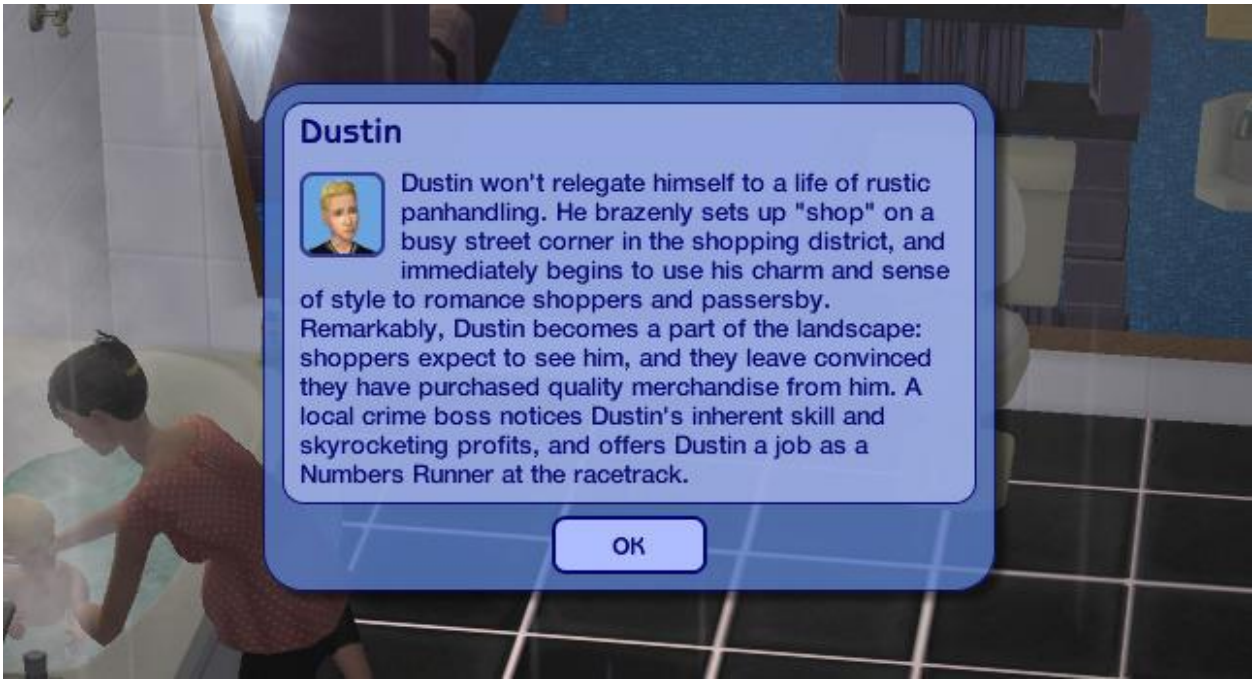
It is not easy being a single pregnant mother of two boys.

But she managed to teach Beau to potty without using smart milk as no one has enough points to get it yet xD



Dustin
The "cheap imitation industry" is a cutthroat one in SimCity, and Dustin's turf has been overtaken by the local underground retail mafia. Displaced, he is left to scout out some new territory. Should Dustin risk getting busted at a high-profile spot in the ritzy shopping district, or should he choose a street corner closer to the town's farming outskirts?
Ritzy Shops
Farms
Ignore

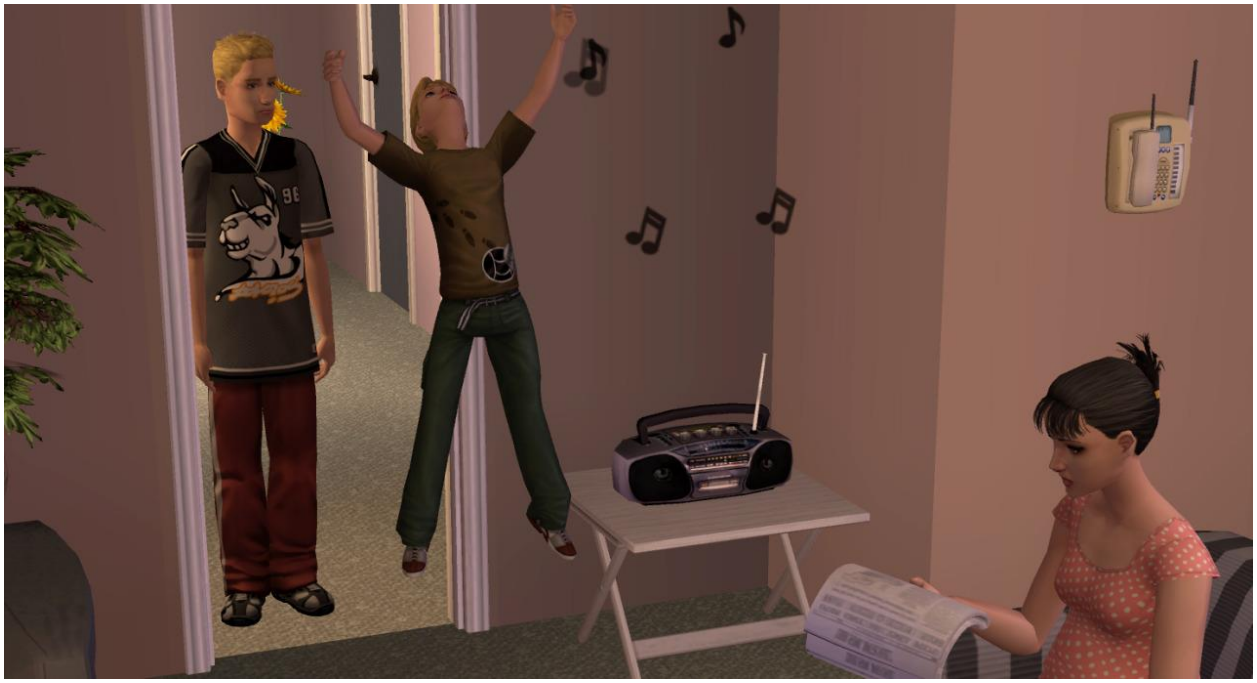
Alright, first chance card. Let's go with Ritzy Shops.



Dustin
Dustin won't relegate himself to a life of rustic panhandling. He brazenly sets up "shop" on a busy street corner in the shopping district, and immediately begins to use his charm and sense of style to romance shoppers and passersby. Remarkably, Dustin becomes a part of the landscape: shoppers expect to see him, and they leave convinced they have purchased quality merchandise from him. A local crime boss notices Dustin's inherent skill and skyrocketing profits, and offers Dustin a job as a Numbers Runner at the racetrack.
OK

Nice! Good job Dustin! You are a natural born criminal xD

As you guys know the clean uberhood hoods don't have townies but I added them. I used the townie stealth hood to add Strangetown ones and added Veronaville ones one by one. VV guys have their own names but ST ones are randomized though I know this one here is known as Gerard Landry.



Between everything I forgot about Beau's birthday and he grew up in the doorway xD honestly I can't be assed to do a whole cake thing for it in this household. Maybe Angela will get a party xD

Meanwhile Brandi was busy looking for a job. They have a 150 bucks in their account and she needs to work. Medicine pays well and she already has some cooking skill so why not?

Beau and Dustin getting along talking about the criminal life xD

I like the fact that these guys start so close to having a friendship and I'd like to cement it. She started by having a little chat with Dina.

I spotted Gilbert and again she has no chemistry with him so our search for a partner for Brandi is still on!

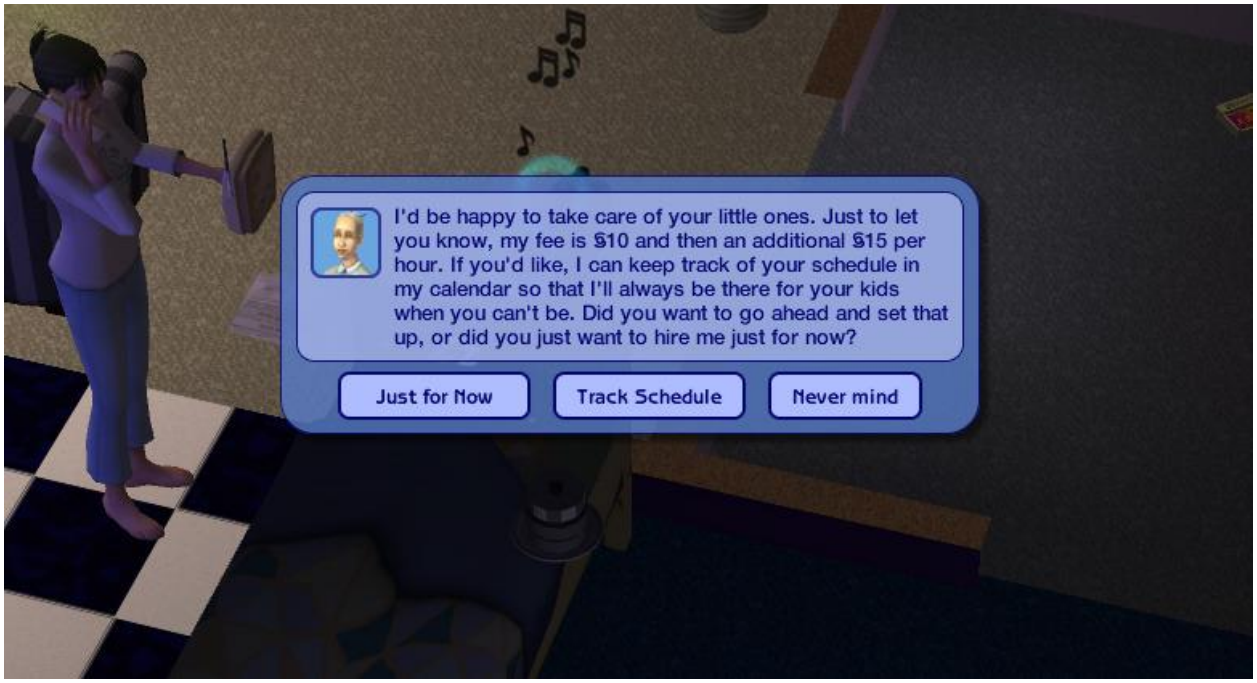
End of part 1! See you on the next part which will still be the Broke house as I'm playing till the season turns to winter.

Dustin had a want to learn to study. As it takes him ages to finish his homework I decided to get it done.

Finally the baby Broke is here!

Hmm his colours are exactly like Brandi. I know I have the clean hood so it should be properly linked but I dunno. He might be the classic clone baby which I hope is not.

Brandi only has enough to teach one kid to study. It is on Dustin to pass on that wisdom xD



I'd be happy to take care of your little ones. Just to let you know, my fee is §10 and then an additional §15 per hour. If you'd like, I can keep track of your schedule in my calendar so that I'll always be there for your kids when you can't be. Did you want to go ahead and set that up, or did you just want to hire me just for now?

Never mind

Now that she is not pregnant, she will be going to work. So it's nanny time!

Ah yes, the Sims 2 nanny, harassing sleeping babies

yeah, I'm sure that bath couldn't wait until he was awake facepalm

Good job Dustin! You're turning things around!

Brandi has been promoted to Paramedic Lvl 2!
You're attending medical school and working part time as a paramedic. You'll need to avoid fatigue while allowing time for study and riding in an ambulance on the night shift. Keep your vehicle and equipment clean and well-maintained.
Brandi now works from 20:00 to 02:00 starting immediately. Brandi brought home §385 today and got a bonus of §770!

And look at Brandi getting promoted on her first day!

And she wants to get promoted, interesting

They seem to get along well

Playing chess on her lawn in her bath towel... that is a style

The towel is throwing me off xD

She either called Dina or she was passing by and she invited her in, either way Dina's visiting!

Beau got good grades as well! They re doing alright!

Dustin
Day after day, Dustin toils in the seedy underbelly of the SimCity racetrack, crunching numbers and helping to set odds for the day's races. It's not glamorous, but it pays the bills. One day, Dustin receives a hot tip from an insider—Lucky Go Pika, commonly a last-place horse, has been doing extremely well in warmups. Should Dustin try and place a bet under the table, or should he pass up this opportunity?
Place the Bet

Place the bet!

Dustin
Dustin places a modest bet for Lucky Go Pika under a pseudonym—at impressive 17:1 odds. Inside betting may be frowned upon, but all's fair in love and racing!
Several hours later, Dustin watches the featured race anxiously . . . "Velocirooster is leading the pack... this looks like a done deal . . . but wait! Lucky Go Pika comes out of nowhere to take the lead!!" Against amazing odds, Dustin's horse wins—and he collects a tidy §400 in winnings.
OK

oop, it was time for Skip to grow up.

Skip just grew up from a baby to a toddler!
Dustin is sick with the flu! He will need plenty of rest in order to recover. If he gets enough sleep and doesn't spend too much time standing up, he'll be healthy in no time.

Hmm not sure if he is a clone or not

So, the house is small and Beau is getting in the way a little bit. Constantly wanting someone to read to him so I sent him outside to play chess and get out of the way.

Brandi often throws wants to flirt and stuff and I think she has a bit of a romance aspiration in her so I gave it to her, along with some perks

Dina came around again and they have become best friends!

Bless the smart milk, Skip learned two skills on his first day of being a toddler xD

Dustin has been promoted to Pickpocket Lvl 3!
Entry-level two-bit thief—but you are your own boss. Dexterity and physical speed are obviously important. A certain amount of creativity is helpful, too, if you are going to distract those marks while you dip into their pockets.
Dustin now works from 15:00 to 18:00 starting immediately. Dustin brought home §131 today and got a bonus of §327!

All he needs is an A+ and he'll be an overachiver!

Brandi has been promoted to Nurse Lvl 3!
You've made it through med school, and secured your first job at SimCity General Hospital. This is a mentally as well as a physically demanding job. Work on your logic skill and your bedside manner to get those patient referrals.
Brandi now works from 07:00 to 14:00 starting immediately. Brandi brought home §476 today and got a bonus of §952!

With this promotion we have completed Broke household's round. I think it is fitting for Brandi to be a nurse, I dunno. They also have around 2k in their account and I say that's not too bad!

See you guys on the next update! I don't know yet which family I will play.

2 - Goneril Capp – Round 1

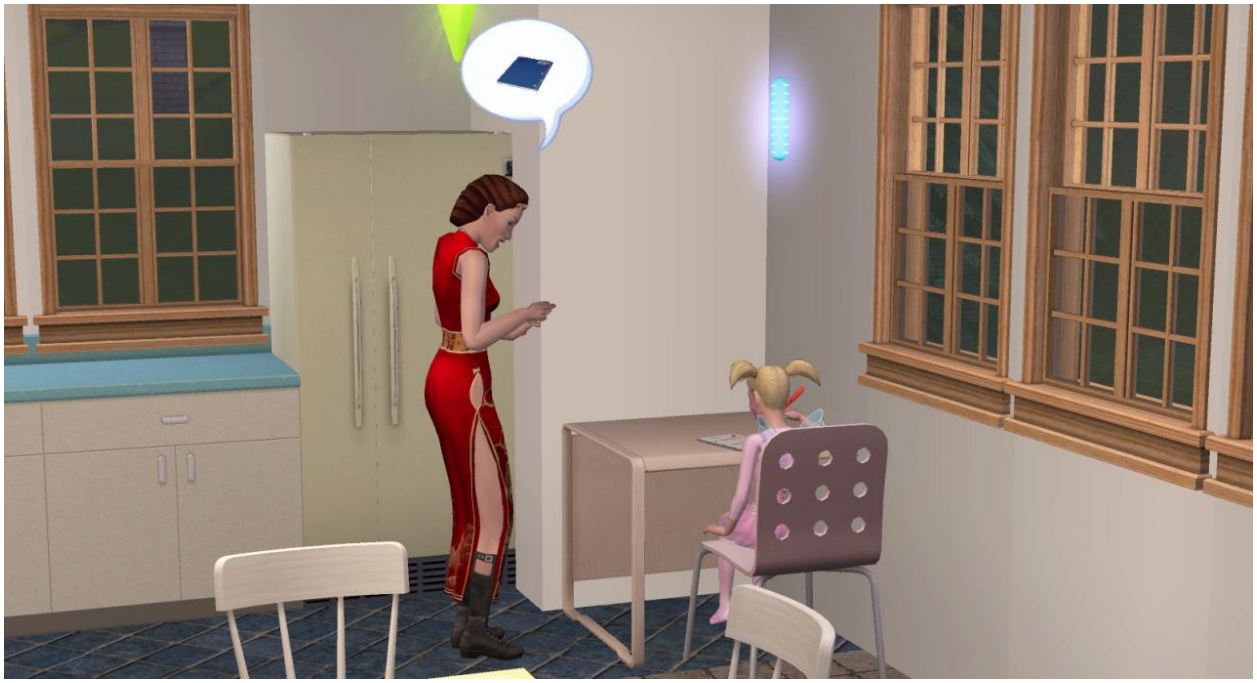
I don't know what possessed me to play these guys as the second family but I was setting them up and here we are.

Yeah, I can't profess enough how much you're not having another kid, man.

Aww, Desdemona is playing with Ariel.



At this point in this house it is who wants to do what and who is free to do it. They are worse than the Brokes.

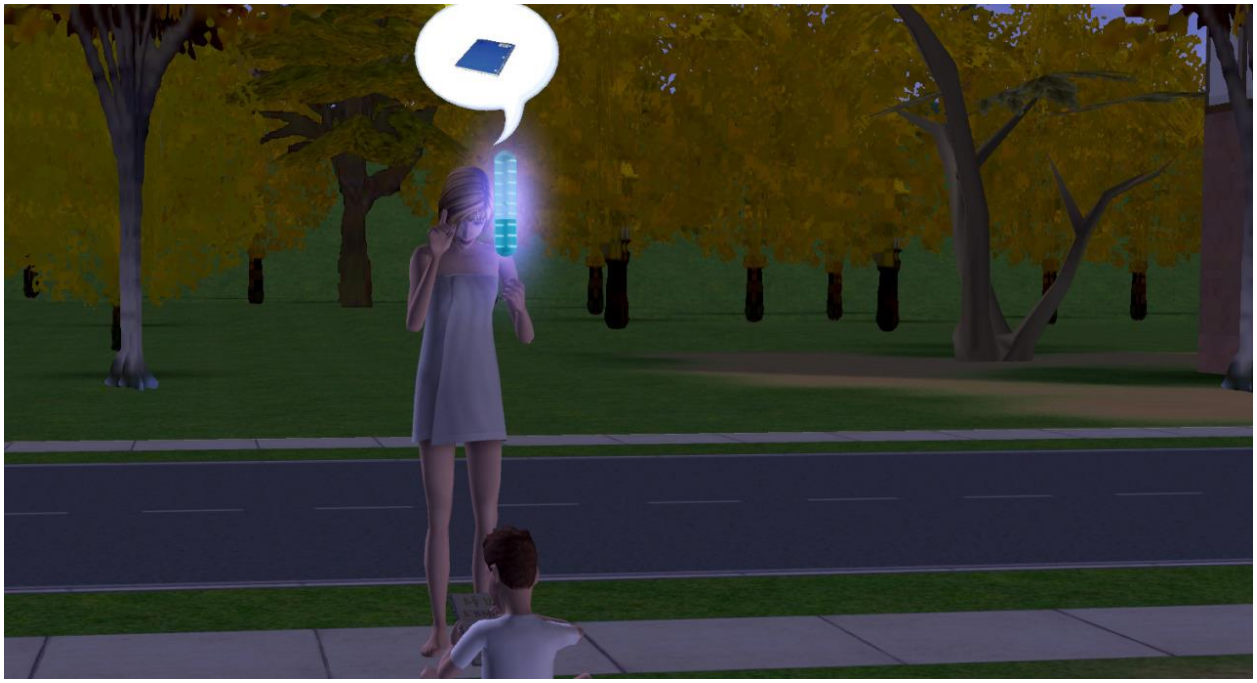
A family picture, I like taking with this family when I play

Albany and Goneril is not in love. They are barely friends but they still dressed up in their birthday suit for a chat. Because Goneril has so much business career related skill and she probably worked a while and the family should have more than just 20k in their account. I think Albany spent their money on something. He is vein but a good dad and my mind just immediately goes to either buying expensive clothes or having a gambling problem.

What I HC for them is Albany somehow lost their savings, they lost their house and haven't had much to live off on and because it was his fault they have a sour relationship now, at the start. Anyways, they didn't woohoo just chatted and then left.

Albany has found a job in education and him being a family sim I usually put him to that job. Business career didn't come up so Goneril is at home with Ariel. Look how happy she is!

Kid, why are you trying to play with the puddles outside?? You have every toy inside the house. Really do not like toddlers in this game.



Meanwhile Miranda wanted to get a job in either music or be a slacker and I see her as a music girl and not a slacker and she finally found one. This is her just helping out the kids. Goneril is exhausted, Albany is working and they all have crappy beds so... no one's getting enough rest.

Didn't have a place to put a tub inside the house and she refused to use the potty.

Aww look at that little devil poop herself right after her bath (the aww was sarcastic btw)

Somehow Miranda is doing very well in school and hold a career but she still has no luck in love. Her first kiss wish has been locked for ages and I can't invite Mercutio over because %100 there will be a fight with someone in the house.

So I took her out to check out the Veronaville community lots. They are complete duds xD

Then I added my Narwhal Arms Nightclub, ignore the blue flashing door there. It was okay but no luck with other teenagers so she went back home.

They needed fun and red hands is my go to in these poor situations.

This wasn't me, they kissed on their own. I guess they still have some feelings for each other.

Finally someone in the house had enough for smart milk!

Just place the kid right into the stairs

Goneril is so happy to have this many kids xD

We waited for a few days and there were no openings for business so she called her father and asked for his help. (I used hacked computer to get her the job xd) And she's off!

Goneril
The current grist for the office rumor mill seems to be that Goneril's boss is up for a promotion and has been asked to hand pick his replacement. Seems like a sure fire way to get in good with the boss would be to take him out to his favorite restaurant, but Goneril also knows that his kids have been desperate to get the new Robotic Ants from Wrightway Toys.

Nah, have dinner.

Goneril
Goneril takes her boss to the exclusive Hedman's Hideaway Downtown Seafood Restaurant, his favorite spot. She uses all the charisma she has to explain where she sees the company and herself in the next five years. He seems impressed and thanks Goneril for dinner. When Goneril gets back to her office, her desk has been packed up in boxes. On the verge of tears she goes to collect her things, when she spots a note. It reads, "Congratulations, looks like you're going places." Goneril's been promoted to Executive.
OK

She was born for this.

I hear the grow up sounds and spot Ariel sparkling and realize I forgot her birthday and there she is and I hear the sounds again!

Then I look outside and see that Hal has grown up and the first sounds I heard was his xd Sorry I missed it, man

Hal Capp is no longer a child.
What will he aspire to?
Fortune Aspiration
Sims with the Fortune Aspiration crave money, rising to the top of their careers, and just plain expensive stuff. They'll need all of these things in spades to keep their Aspiration Meters full and their fiscally minded lives long and happy.

This is the kids room btw. I had a bunk bed but it conflicts with the sleep in your bed mod so had to be this Ariel's all grown up!

So many of the household is becoming best friends. Miranda and Desdemona, Albany and Ariel. Miranda sadly doesn't have as good a relationship with her parents as the younger kids.

And she still haven't had that kiss and you can see it's not even locked and hasn't just went away.

Meanwhile Hal brought Chris Cho from school and already putting the moves on her on his own!

Albany has been promoted to Elementary School Teacher Lvl 4!
From arts and crafts to mathematics, you fill your students' heads with worldly knowledge. Just make sure they don't fill their ears with glue.
Albany now works from 08:00 to 15:00 starting immediately. Albany brought home §642 today and got a bonus of §1,284!
Goneril has been promoted to Senior Manager Lvl 6!
Salary hops up, as you are now overseeing several franchise offices. There are a lot of executives under your command, so charisma and logic help in settling disputes and keeping the various teams running smoothly. Your golf game needs to improve if you expect to close any deals from now on, so a little more work in the creative department would not be a bad idea.
Goneril now works from 08:00 to 15:00 starting immediately. Goneril brought home §910 today and got a bonus of §2,275!

Not surprised Goneril got promoted but surprised at Albany doing so well since he started. What did I tell you guys about him and the education career

Miranda
Miranda is daydreaming while lazily reorganizing the country music section of the store when a man walks in and asks to buy a copy of "Love, Forever, Now and Then", a critically panned album that sold well amongst the masses. Miranda really doesn't want to sell the album to anyone, but then again, the store owner would be furious if she let her opinion ruin a sale. All eyes are on Miranda - should she dig up the copy of "Love, Forever, Now and Then" or recommend something else?
Sell the Album
Recommend Something Else
Ignore

I think she would recommend something else

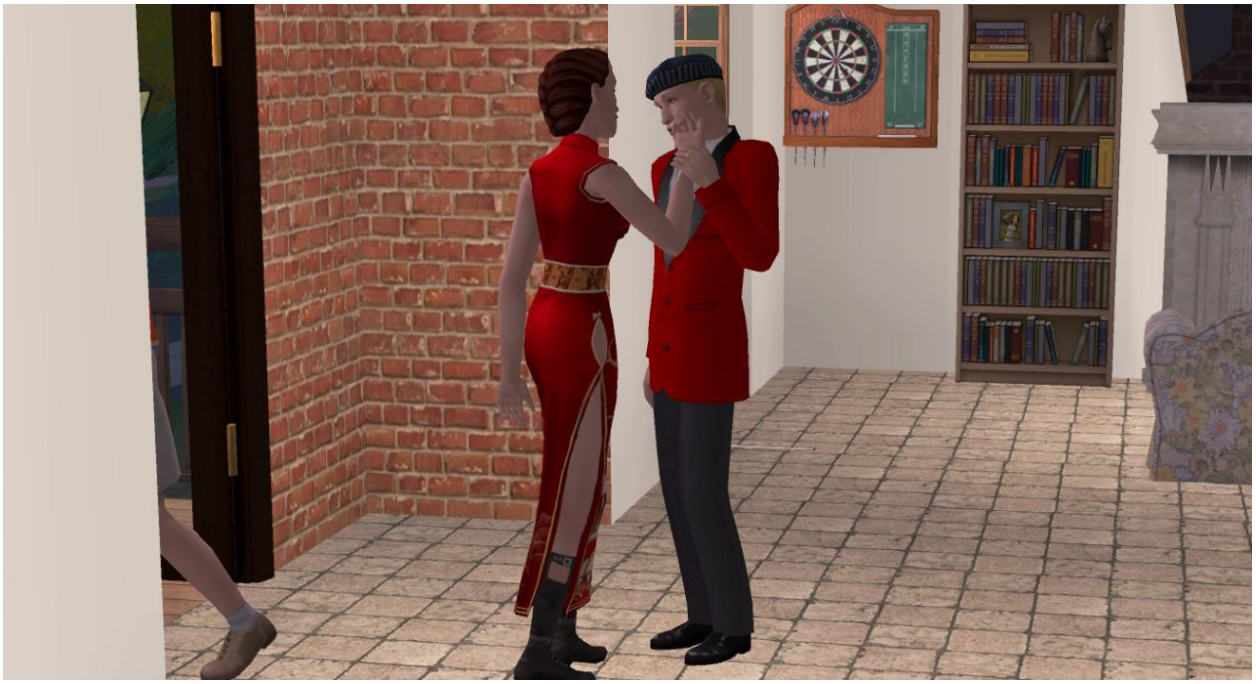
Miranda
The success of "Love, Forever, Now and Then" is mind-boggling to Miranda, an aspiring musician, and she instantly seeks to steer the customer clear of the record. Though the customer stubbornly refuses to consider another album at first, he soon sets his sights on "Distorted Love," a heavy metal version of "Love, Forever, Now and Then" that Miranda loves. The customer leaves completely satisfied and Miranda, her rock essence appeased, settles back into reorganizing the country music section. Miranda earns a Charisma Skill Point.
OK

Nice, good job!

The house is crowded with everyone's friends from work/school and I notice these two get away. I cancel the action because they still don't have enough of an affection to one another and they have guests that needs attending

I was focused on something else when I heard the tingly sound and what do we have here? Hal getting his first kiss before fucking Miranda xD on his first day as a teen, mind you.

Good news is I don't think he's a player xD



All them and ACR.

You think this would be Albany and Goneril again but no. Hal and Chris is not satisfied with just a kiss xD I leave them be and hear heart sounds and I find the source

It's Albany getting a crush on Goneril once again. She is still not there yet.

Meanwhile Miranda has returned from work and tucking in Desdemona. She is very attentive to her siblings and I think she has a bit of a family in her

Nice to see them find enough room to have a pillow fight xD

Yo, Gon I got that for the kids not the 40 year old executives such as yourself.

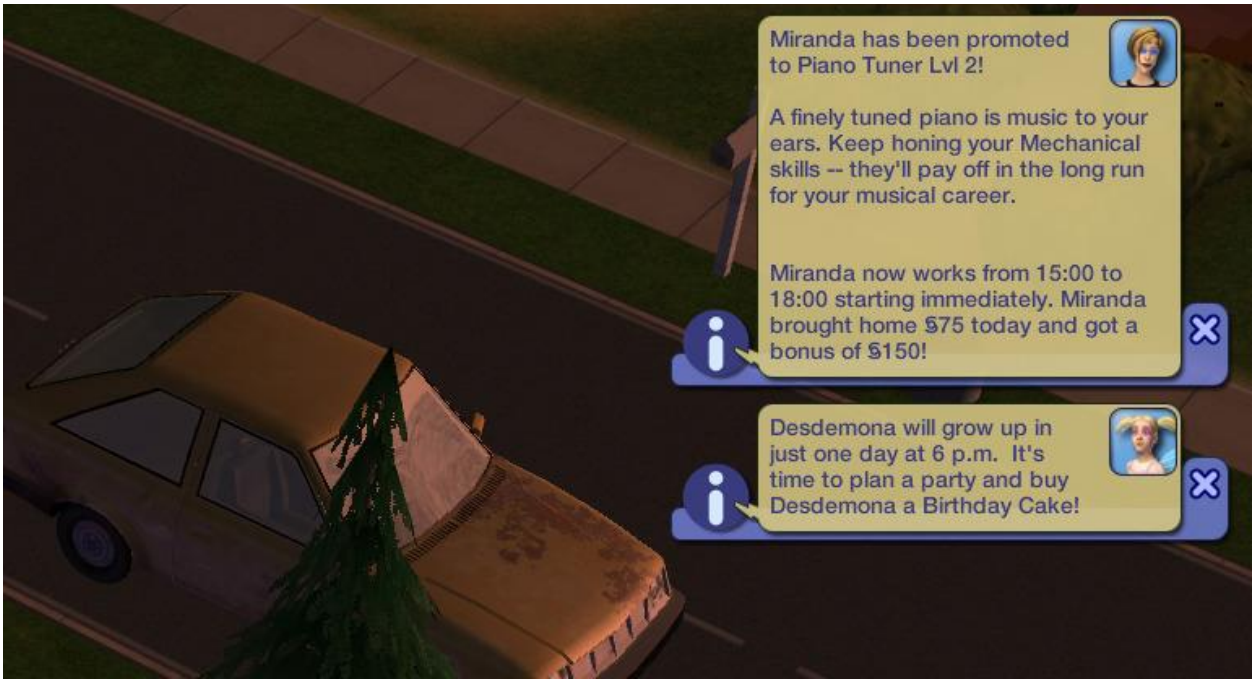
Aww they became friends as well!

It is the weekend and I need to thin the number of sims in the house so off Miranda and Hal went

I sent them to my version of Doc Allen's and again no luck for Miranda. Gilbert is an adult! Find someone your age!

So far she has met 2 other teens and wasn't interested in either of them. I check her turn ons and it's not that bad is it?

Anyways, back in the house, these two are seriously back in love again. Never noticed how in sync their outfits are. Ever since Albany cleared up his act and last toddler grew up they must have remembered why they got married in the first place.



Miranda has been promoted to Piano Tuner Lvl 2!
A finely tuned piano is music to your ears. Keep honing your Mechanical skills -- they'll pay off in the long run for your musical career.
Miranda now works from 15:00 to 18:00 starting immediately. Miranda brought home §75 today and got a bonus of §150!
Desdemona will grow up in just one day at 6 p.m. It's time to plan a party and buy Desdemona a Birthday Cake!

As I have completed my sentence in this household She will have to wait another round to grow up.

Next up will be Regan Capp, her husband and Kent! ~~(in about 10 days)~~

3 - Regan Capp – Round 1

I got them this ugly ass layout of a house. I really hate every house in Veronaville. They have beautiful exteriors but they are so bad for sims on the inside with a ton of routing issues.

Anyways, she wants a baby and I locked that in but that's not gonna happen before her career takes off a little and they can save up to move to a decent house.

Kent wants to woohoo. Interesting wish, can't say I've seen knowledge sims wish this on first load often.

Aww, they got a crush. Why do all marriages starts so terribly in this town?

Ah, yes. Cornwall bullying poor Kent. Time to find something to do for you guys

Good Regan, keep him busy

Could he be more clear that he wants to woohoo? I think I need one more wish on this topic

They both want to do it again. My god, how horny are you guys?

Have at it xD

Meanwhile Kent xD

So I can't see Cornwall in business for some reason. I want him to be in politics, he just gives me that vibe. He'll be in intelligence for the time being. I need them to work cause these guys desperately need money.

They just can't keep their hands off each other xD I think they are my first crazy in love/horny couple in Sims 2

Trying the find a job tomorrow and they both got what they wanted! I forgot to mention Regan found a job in business on her first try.

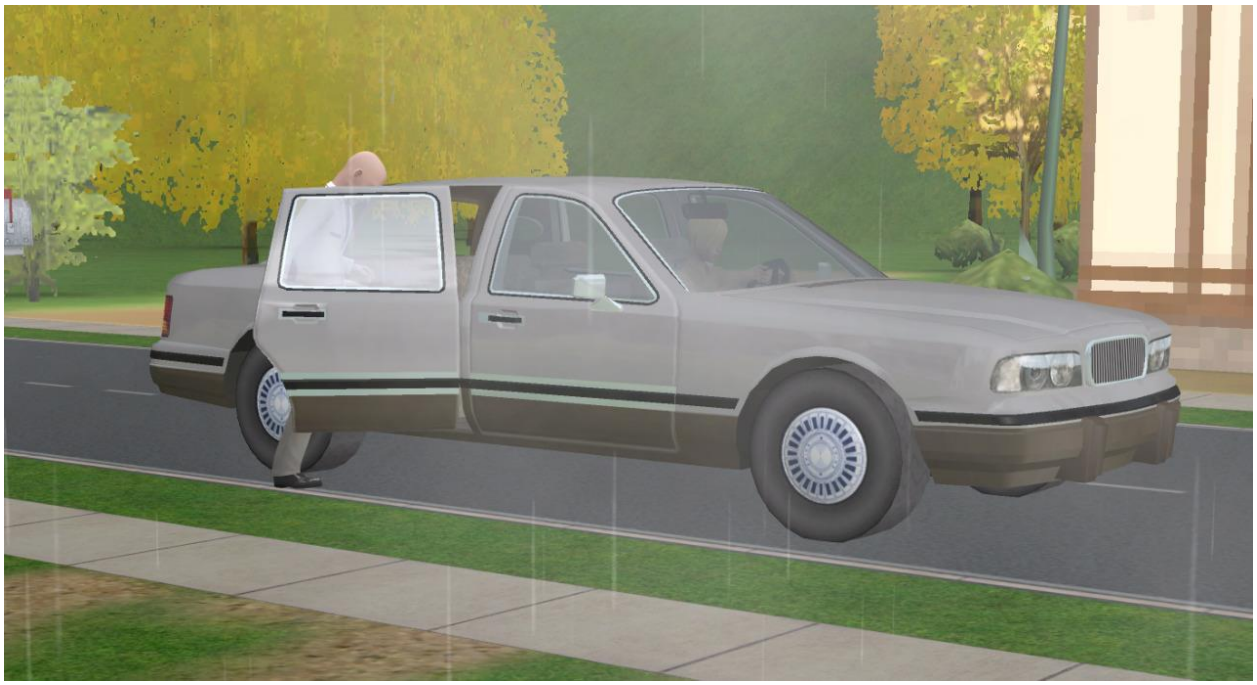
I want to invite Bianca over but she will definitely have a fight with someone in the house. They settled on just talking on the phone and Kent seems to have given up on interacting with another human xD

Cornwall has been promoted to Intern Lvl 2!
Start out running errands for the SimCity Controller and try to work your way up to getting lunch for the mayor. Low pay, long hours. You'll need lots of charisma to advance in politics.
Cornwall now works from 09:00 to 15:00 starting immediately. Cornwall brought home $525 today and got a bonus of $1,312!

Nice, well done!

Bon Appetit, Kent! Your interest in Cuisine is admirable and I would like to heartily extend an invitation to Sue's (Secret) Kitchen, a place sure to whet your appetite.
It's Art! Regan has gained a point of Creativity skill from the Independent Expressions Inc. Easel.

Meanwhile, always cooking for the house Kent managed to get into the cuisine secret lot! He got a wish to join the cooking competition. It will be his first stop on his next day off.



Kent's fancy car might sting Cornwall a little who is still going to work with a sloppy jalopy xD

Oh, no. Mary-Sue is passing by. That can't be a good omen.

Cornwall
The controller has a stack of paperwork on her desk that Cornwall has been asked to read through and assign priority levels to the tasks. About halfway through the stack, he finds some speeches that the controller has been asked to edit. Cornwall has an okay eye for syntax, and he knows how busy the controller is, so he could try editing them himself, or scan the speeches into his word processor and run the grammar check on them.

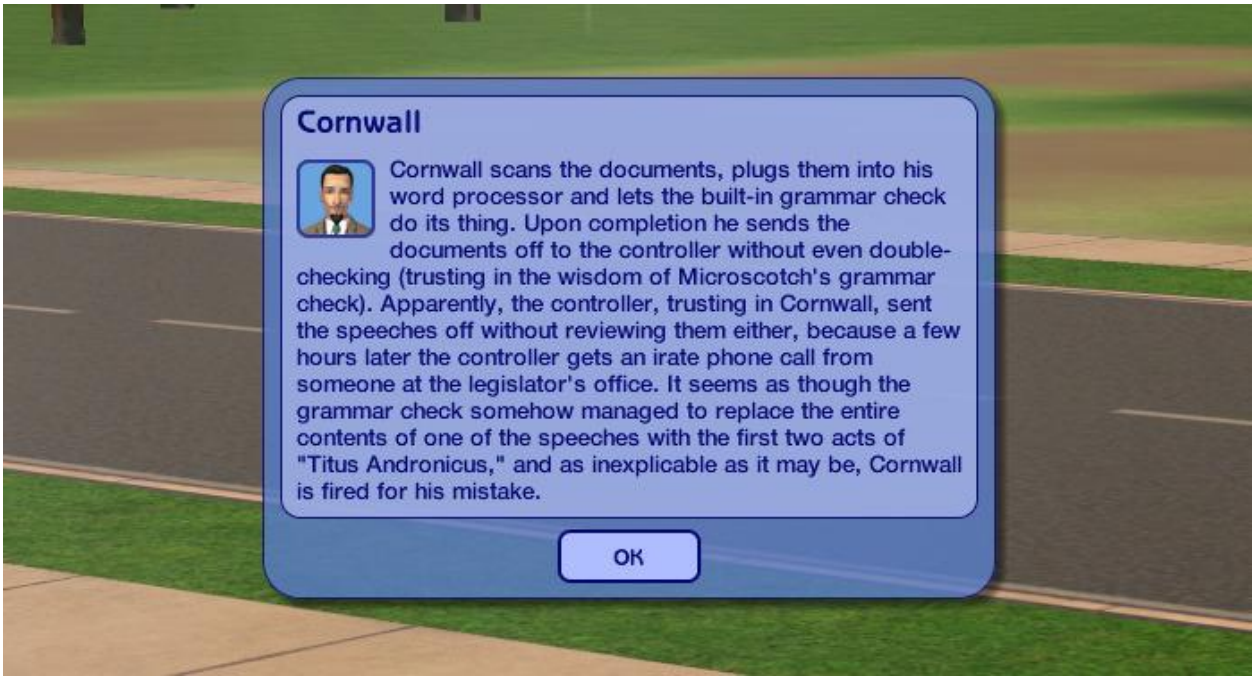
Ignore

Fuck



Cornwall
Cornwall scans the documents, plugs them into his word processor and lets the built-in grammar check do its thing. Upon completion he sends the documents off to the controller without even double-checking (trusting in the wisdom of Microscotch's grammar check). Apparently, the controller, trusting in Cornwall, sent the speeches off without reviewing them either, because a few hours later the controller gets an irate phone call from someone at the legislator's office. It seems as though the grammar check somehow managed to replace the entire contents of one of the speeches with the first two acts of "Titus Andronicus," and as inexplicable as it may be, Cornwall is fired for his mistake.
OK

Oh my god. Fucking Mary-sue xD

I don't believe this. Neither can Cornwall

Talking to Regan's father, he had a wish to call and he might be asking for some favors.

Regan has been promoted to Junior Executive Lvl 4!
Now you have your own grunt to boot around, a personal cubicle, and a nice salary—but it's still a long walk down that hall to the washrooms. Good relationships with people to whom you've proven your superior logic skill will definitely get you noticed.
Regan now works from 09:00 to 16:00 starting immediately. Regan brought home §560 today and got a bonus of §1,400!

Meanwhile Regan is doing wonders on her own! She got the job without her father's help and been amazing at it.

She wished to buy clothes and I think she deserves it. While we were out she grabbed some groceries, too. ~~Because I didn't know which VV lot had a clothing store.~~

Found some nice new clothes for her with my limited cc.

Wanted her to try this on but nah, not her style

Kent has been promoted to Scholar Lvl 7!
You have been named Chairman of the Science Department at Sim University. The regents are depending on your leadership and logical thinking to invigorate the school's science curriculum. This is a high-paying, well-respected position with good hours and more time at home, but it takes a well-rounded skill set to guarantee success and promotion.

He couldn't fix it and with how unlucky he is lately, I don't want to test the random game gods

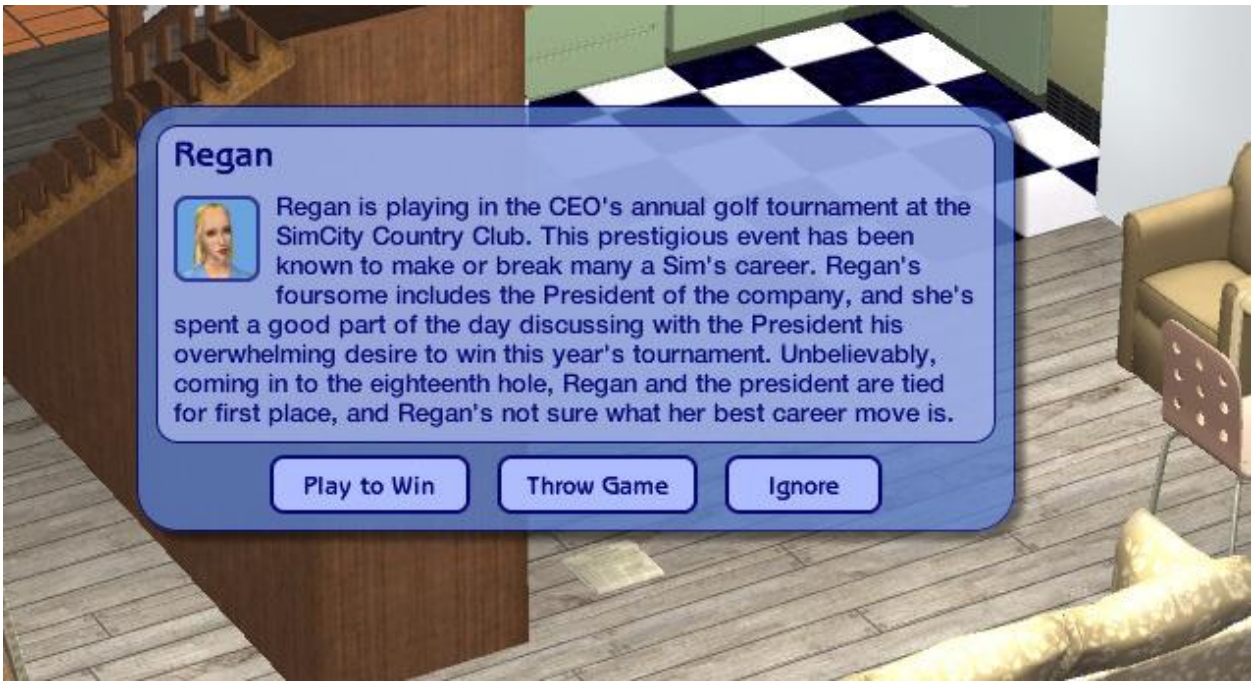
Cornwall had a temporary job in business and he got promoted but it just doesn't feel right. So when I found an opening for politics I got him to take it.

Regan qualifies for this reward and it's my favourite thing to skill charisma with

A little family dinner time. I like seeing them all together like this

I just know doing it on Kent's bed was Cornwall's idea smh

They are kind of growing on me. I have never had another sims couple which was this much hands on before tbh. Whenever I leave them be they are just all over each other.



Regan
Regan is playing in the CEO's annual golf tournament at the SimCity Country Club. This prestigious event has been known to make or break many a Sim's career. Regan's foursome includes the President of the company, and she's spent a good part of the day discussing with the President his overwhelming desire to win this year's tournament. Unbelievably, coming in to the eighteenth hole, Regan and the president are tied for first place, and Regan's not sure what her best career move is.

The crowd of executives goes quiet as Regan approaches her ball. She sinks the 6 foot putt, and the crowd goes wild. Regan wins the §5000 prize and donates it to the Old Town SPCA in the company's name. The President shakes her hand and tells her that the company needs more people who are willing to grab the bull by the horns. Regan is promoted to Vice President and receives 2 Logic and 2 Creativity skill points.

It worked! Go Regan!

Kent
Military Intelligence, otherwise known as AWXYMRAWN, has unearthed something very important in the SimCity Desert. Kent has received a telegram that reads: "Kent stop top secret stop your eyes only stop have found an a stop l stop i stop e stop n stop stop s stop p stop a stop c stop e stop s stop h stop i stop p stop stop come to the you know where at you know when stop this message will self destruct stop" Fascinated by the thought of a small piece of paper self destructing, Kent places the telegram on the table, but it just sits there, benign as ever. Well, Kent does manage to decipher the military's "intricate" code, but unfortunately has absolutely no clue about the time or place where he's supposed to meet them and discuss the "you know what." So he surmises they must either be talking about the excavation area, somewhere out in the middle of the desert, or the secret underground military installation he's heard talk of, somewhere off interstate 51. Which one should he try?

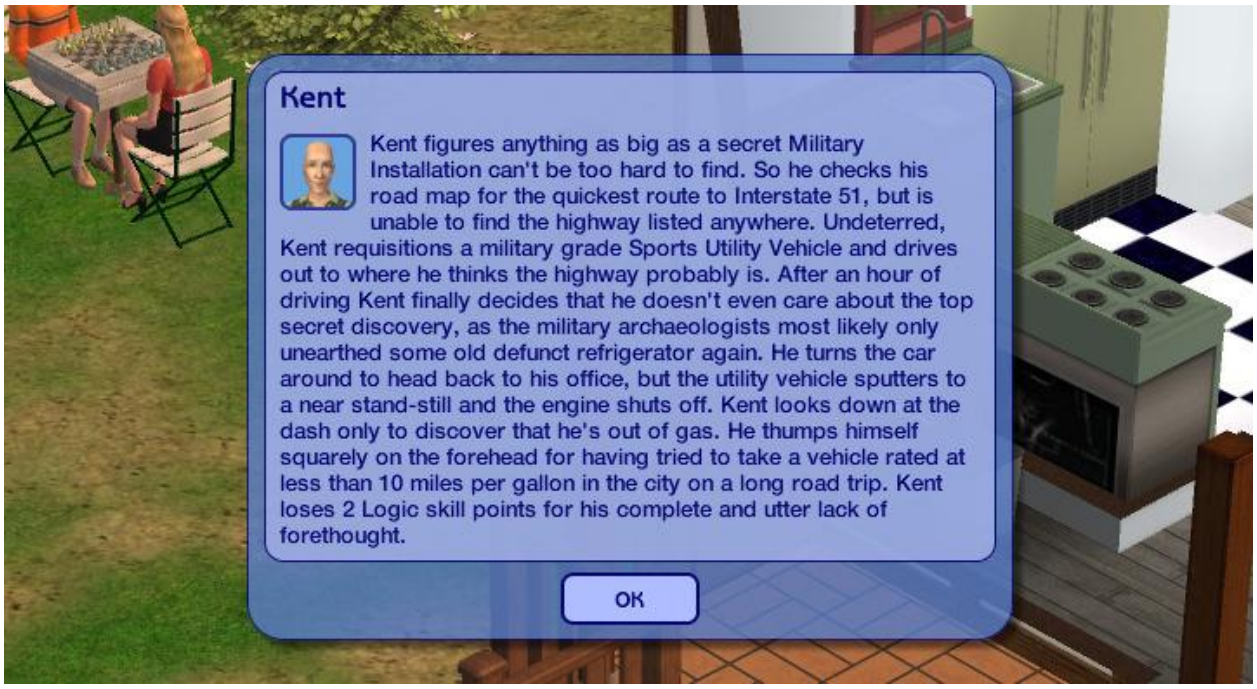
Oh, I don't know I think Kent would choose the Installation.



Kent
Kent figures anything as big as a secret Military Installation can't be too hard to find. So he checks his road map for the quickest route to Interstate 51, but is unable to find the highway listed anywhere. Undeterred, Kent requisitions a military grade Sports Utility Vehicle and drives out to where he thinks the highway probably is. After an hour of driving Kent finally decides that he doesn't even care about the top secret discovery, as the military archaeologists most likely only unearthed some old defunct refrigerator again. He turns the car around to head back to his office, but the utility vehicle sputters to a near stand-still and the engine shuts off. Kent looks down at the dash only to discover that he's out of gas. He thumps himself squarely on the forehead for having tried to take a vehicle rated at less than 10 miles per gallon in the city on a long road trip. Kent loses 2 Logic skill points for his complete and utter lack of forethought.
OK

Oops, oh well. At least he didn't get fired xD

Well, you guys are a bit late on the welcome wagon but alright. Welcome and look we got the Goths!

I guess this means Don and Cass will get married this round. I usually play them first and let Don do a runner xD

We take a little break from our regular programming to fulfil Kent's wish to join a cooking competition.

He decided to go with what he knows best and entered his pancakes.

He seems like he liked it!

Dude made this exact same face for all the other competitors.

Congratulations! Kent has won the food contest along with $500 simoleons. We also placed a special prize in Kent's inventory.

Baldy won! Good job Kent!

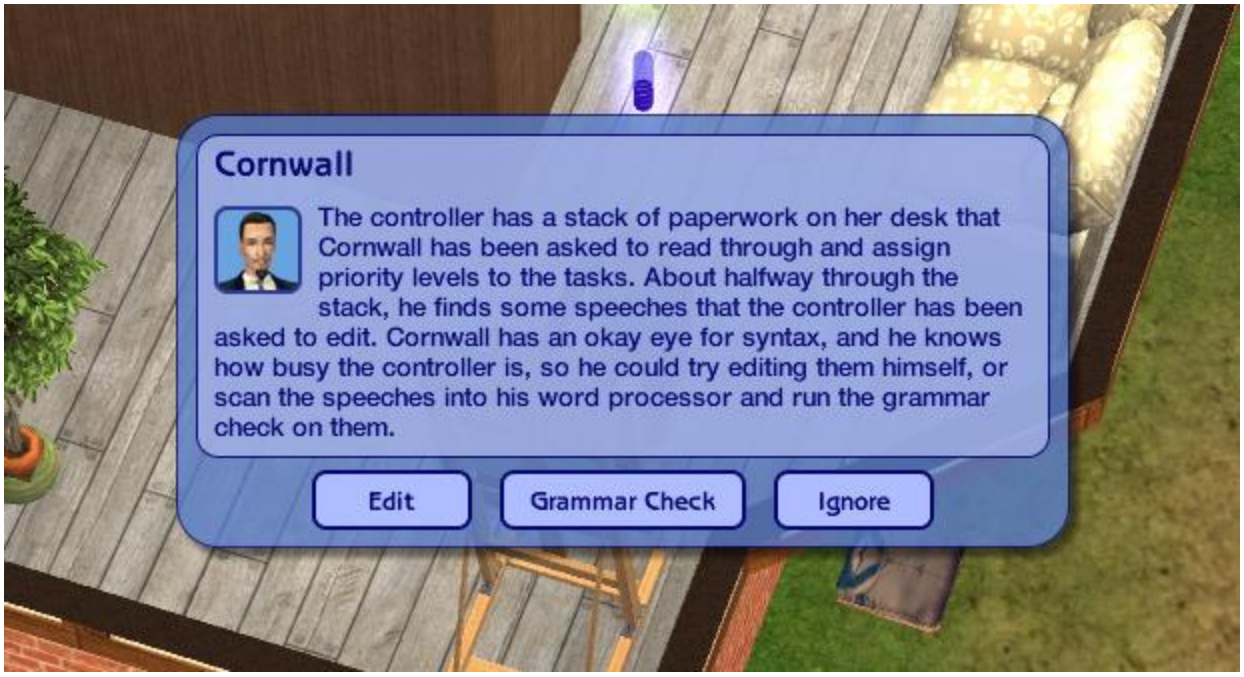
1 Hours : 2 Minutes

Walked right past the guests and celebrated the news with Regan xD

I see these guys hanging in Kent's room. They didn't woohood tho

Well, for a horndog Don is sure just walking behind Cass a whole lot. He just doesn't leave her alone!

Oh, no. What's wrong babe??



Cornwall
The controller has a stack of paperwork on her desk that Cornwall has been asked to read through and assign priority levels to the tasks. About halfway through the stack, he finds some speeches that the controller has been asked to edit. Cornwall has an okay eye for syntax, and he knows how busy the controller is, so he could try editing them himself, or scan the speeches into his word processor and run the grammar check on them.

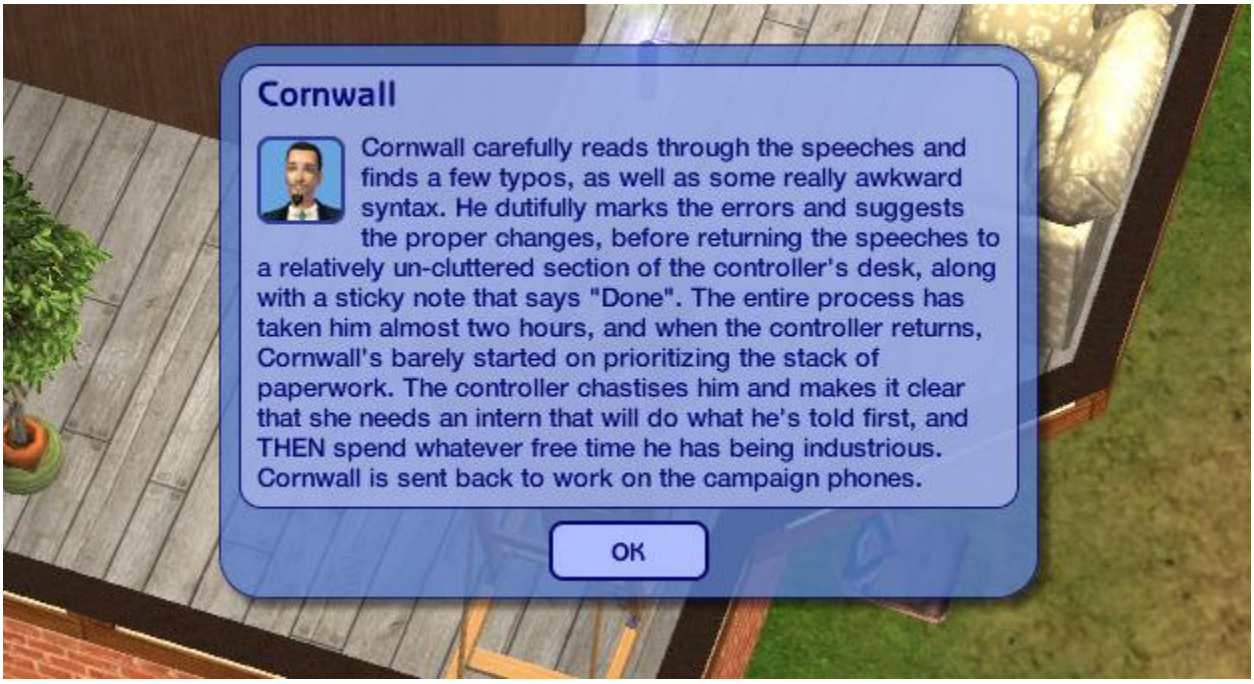
Oh for fucks sake



Cornwall
Cornwall carefully reads through the speeches and finds a few typos, as well as some really awkward syntax. He dutifully marks the errors and suggests the proper changes, before returning the speeches to a relatively un-cluttered section of the controller's desk, along with a sticky note that says "Done". The entire process has taken him almost two hours, and when the controller returns, Cornwall's barely started on prioritizing the stack of paperwork. The controller chastises him and makes it clear that she needs an intern that will do what he's told first, and THEN spend whatever free time he has being industrious. Cornwall is sent back to work on the campaign phones.

COME OOON

Cornwall has been demoted because of poor work performance to Campaign Worker Lvl 1.
Cornwall now works from 09:00 to 18:00. Cornwall brought home §385 today.
Cornwall has brought a friend home from work today.

And there is Mary-sue. The omen for bad job performance and getting fired ffs xD I can't believe she appeared both times Cornwall got demoted/fired. He is so unlucky fr tho

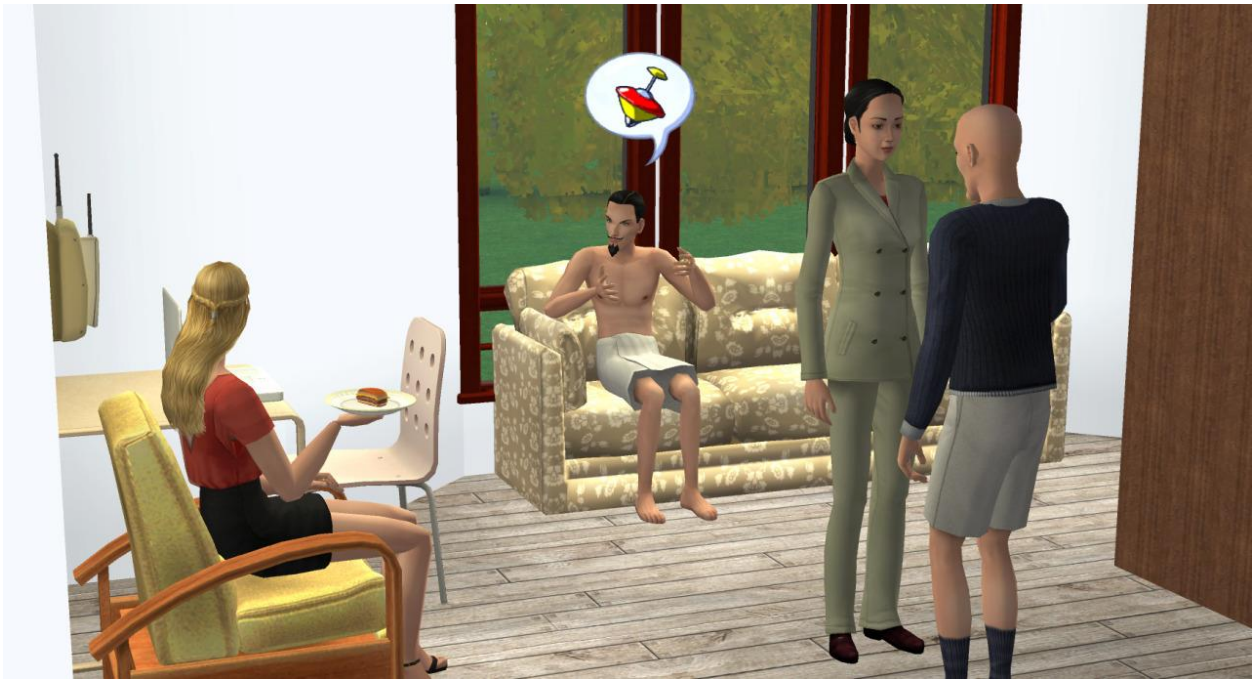
He doesn't mind though, still following Regan around xD



Regan is giving him the news I think, they are talking about toys

She was tired and with the miscarriage mod, I'm a bit paranoid so she will stay off her feet.

She only now fell asleep. I didn't know it took them a while to fall asleep when they nap on the couch. This game has so many tiny details man

With the news of Regan's pregnancy confirmed we are ready to move on from this household. The baby Capp will be born in the next round!
